My Palette Please don't use old paint that is too stiff or dried out...should have nice buttery texture) You may bring the colors you are used to using also.

Yellows...light or lemon (I like Gamblin Radiant Lemon)
Yellow Medium (I use cadmium but there are other less expensive that are fine)
Indian Yellow (optional)
Permanent Alizarin
Quinacridone red (Permanent Rose)
Cadmium Orange (optional, can be made)
Viridian (Optional)
Manganese Blue
Ultramarine Blue
Titanium or Titanium/Zinc White (large tube)

Supplies (Google "Plein Air Painting Supplies" and explore all options)

Plastic or paper viewer
Brushes: Bristle- (2,4,6,8) flats and/or filberts, rounds ok if you like them
Small thin watercolor brush (a rigger about 1" long for fine lines)
Wipe out tool (I may have some you can purchase) but get it if you can
Paper towels(Viva is great) or blue shop towels (cheaper), or kleenex
Hand wipes or hand cleaner
Medium size plastic bags for used towels, etc.
Palette knife(s), medium, pointy kind, for painting, and one for scraping palette
Odorless Mineral Spirits or brush cleaner in hanging metal can or other small container medium (Galkyd or Neo Megilp, or whatever, for glazing
Wood or Plexiglass palette if possible, white paper not good for outdoors.
Small -medium sized primed canvases, panels or canvas pad (Centurian) can be cut and taped to a board. Centurian OP dlx Linen Panels are great for a good price, google them.
Portable easel and wet paintings carrier(a pizza box will work also) google "plein air painting supplies"
The Easyl and Open Box M, among others, are used with a tripod, French easels are fine but heavy, good inexpensive alternatives (Sun Eden) get the one with a shelf for your palette.
Small drawing pad and dark pencil or charcoal and camera
Painting umbrella that attaches to easel-optional (optional)
Sketches, pochades, or photos of landscape and clouds for indoor class
Plus: Sunscreen, bug spray, hat and/or visor, water bottle, food. windbreaker, warm jacket, disposable gloves and old gloves (for cold mornings)
Oh yes, and bring your Sense of Humor!!!
